

LaSonya Bishop Biography

LaSonya Bishop is the Director of Houston Programs at Volunteers of America Texas (VOA Texas). She leads a regional team of professionals supporting the strategic activity of systems driven workforce and outreach programs. Her background includes almost two decades of career experience in Education as an Interdisciplinary Educator, Instructional Specialist, and Professional Development Consultant working with over 50 public and private schools across. She provides transformative leadership and collaborative relationship building with recognized industry leaders to create unique opportunities for employer engagement. Ms. Bishop has actively served on senior leadership teams, advisory councils, and other community enriched networks to support resource deficit populations. After her second year with the agency, she was awarded the VOA Texas Difference Maker for outstanding program expansion efforts. LaSonya has extensive experience in managing aspects of organizational improvement initiatives such as innovative program planning/design, content training/coaching employees, and fostering program advancement. She has a deep passion for cultural competency as well as social justice advocacy.

Mrs. LaSonya Bishop holds a Bachelor's degree in Education (magna cum laude) and a Master's degree in Educational Leadership (summa cum laude) and is a Educational Leadership doctoral candidate at Prairie View A&M University.